

THIRD GRADE NEWS

SEPTEMBER 6, 2024

WHAT'S HAPPENING NEXT WEEK?

Reading: Next week, we will continue our story, The Trial of Cardigan Jones. We will have a short quiz over the story on Tuesday. Upon completion of this story, we will begin a unit over using reference materials to find information that will take the rest of the week.

Math: Our unit in multiplication continues as we master our 5s facts and begin working on 2s. We will also begin learning about the process of division and how this creates a fact family with multiplication.

Science: We will continue with our Forces and Balances unit by investigating more with magnets and using our findings to write explanations with proof to support answers.

Language Arts: We will begin our first literature set with a story called Weslandia. We will use this story to begin working on writing. Our focus will be on using vocabulary to generate ideas of creating a topic sentence.

Social Studies: There will be a test over Chapter 1 on Thursday. Students will have a study guide to use to prepare for the test.

Reminder Dates:

September 10: PTO meeting at 3:30.
(yes, that is the correct time, PTO is trying a new time this year)

Have a wonderful weekend!

lunch

ugly

cover

trunk

sponge

stuff

bunch

dull

month

bucket

trust

uncle

cuff

summit

hunter

button

trouble

until