

News from the Top Dawg!
December 1, 2023

Math:

In the next few weeks, we will continue writing (multiple ways), graphing, and interpreting slope. This is a concept that you will need for Alg. 1 class! Please take the time to learn it to use it, not learn it for the test! Remember that I said I would possibly give you pop quizzes? Be sure to know your vocabulary well! I am not telling you when the next quiz will be. YOU NEED TO PRACTICE AND STUDY! Listen in class for a date for the review of the chapter and the chapter test. These dates will depend on how quickly the class is able to catch on to the skills.

ELA:

Students write individual argumentative essays written in a formal letter format. So that means we will be reviewing the letter format and envelope format again!

Parents, Please Note:

When your child misses school, please remind them that they need to review all their Google Classroom announcements. These are posted so that ALL students have access to the assignments and materials that were used in class. I am finding that some students are not utilizing the information I am posting. I take extra time to upload pictures of my notes and links that I use in the lesson. If your child is earning lates, ask them if they wrote the assignment in their planner (or anywhere) or checked Google Classroom. Being absent is not an excuse for not knowing what they are to do. Please see the quoted part of the information that was addressed at the beginning of the year with all students:

- ❑ If you are absent, it is your responsibility to obtain any missed class work. Begin by looking for missed handouts in the ABSENT folder your classmate has compiled for you. Then ask another student (your study buddy) what you missed. Follow-up with the teacher if necessary.
- ❑ Make arrangements to take quizzes and tests immediately. It is your responsibility to make these arrangements, I will not and cannot track you down. If you do not make-up quizzes in a timely manner (before graded quizzes are returned to the students who were present), you will earn a "zero" on the quiz or test.
- ❑ UNEXCUSED absences on the day of an assignment, test, quiz, project, presentation, paper, etc. will result in a zero.
